By Howard Sharp

Sugar cane on the Pennsylvania Sugar Company's tract in the Miami canal in Dade county grew six inches in a week, as registered on a long marking rod that stands in one of the cane patches. Manager E. B. Graham spoke of this parenthetically; he was not understood to imply that all of the cane grew at that rate, but the rate of growth of cane in even one patch is a good sign, and the good growing conditions on that plantation.

Mr. Graham fought high water for two years, as the Florida Sugar & Food Products Company management fought high water in the upper Glades and he has the best of it so far. The capability of the muck soil to produce sugar cane has been proved; there remains now no problem—it is merely the existence of a condition to be met, and that condition is the presence or absence of water above or below a certain level. All else is settled. The "squatter Cracker" grew sugar cane in the muck soil of the Everglades years and years ago; they made syrup and sugar, ate it and sold it, and showed all that was needed to be known of soil and climate. Then the state drainage board came in to drain the land so that more cane could be grown, and the contest against the water began.

Some miles back from the Pennsylvania Sugar Company's tract, a Marion steam shovel working west, is digging a canal—a big canal. It is one of four canals that are to be dug in the Dade drainage district, which embraces the sugar company's land on the west side of Miami canal. A walking type excavating machine precedes the steam shovel and takes off the muck; then the steam shovel digs 10 feet into rock. The first mile of the district's canal cost upward of $20,000, but the whole has been reduced to around $20,000, but it is estimated that the program of work laid out will cost two million dollars. Left to itself, the Pennsylvania Sugar Company's tract seems capable of meeting the condition as to disposal of surplus water, for in addition to canals to be dug, the whole district is to have a dike around it. Unfortunately the management has not been left to itself; a sun has been voted in Dade county for work on the Miami Trail, in Dade county but no decision is made for sufficient openings in the trail to pass the water that naturally flows to it. What the outcome of the conflict between drainage plans and road plans will be is yet to be determined, and that is a detail separate from the proposition that sugar cane can be grown successfully in large areas of the Everglades.

The visit to the Pennsylvania Sugar Company's plantation was made Friday in company with S. W. Bollinger and E. T. Anderson of the Canal Point sugar company. This is why Mr. Bollinger and Mr. Anderson made the trip. The manufacturers of a drag-line machine designed and built a machine for use in cane fields of which good reports come from Hawaii; a deal is proposed under which the manufacturers would build a machine for the Canal Point plantation, and two representatives of the manufacturing company are getting data needed in designing a type of a machine suited to the muck soils. The drag-line men had visited Canal Point and they wanted to see the Dade county plantation and talk with Manager Graham. The idea is that cane would be cut in the field in the usual manner, then laid into a sling and the sling raised by a hoisting machine and dropped into the water in the railroad tracks that run through the fields. P. & H. machines are both drag-lines and hoists; by their use the cane slings may be raised a distance and then hoisted. The problem is to get a machine that can walk through the cane fields and not hurt the stubble and the problem for which the designers sought information. The original growth on the muck land 18 miles up the Miami canal was

ASK BID ON LATERALS

ASK has been made by the supervisors of the Pahokee drainage district for bids for the cutting of lateral ditches, the bids to be received September 2. Contract has already been let for the main canal and the clearing of right of way. Award of contract for lateral ditches will make certain the greatest growth of Pahokee in the next year.

TO MAKE SURVEY FOR ROAD SOON

County Engineer Butler Is Expected To Come and Fix Route On East Beach

G. E. Galloway assembled this week a crew of men to work with County Engineer Butler on a survey of the route of the East Beach road. Mr. Butler was expected here Monday and Mr. Galloway had the men ready but Mr. Butler was unable to get here that day. It was understood he would come later in the week.

A committee from the Pahokee Chamber of Commerce went to West Palm Beach the latter part of last week to ascertain when the preliminary to road construction would start. They are reported to have been told that the survey would be undertaken at once. Survey must be made before plans can be made for the road. There is no definite understanding on East Beach whether the road will be built by county forces or by contract.

Although there is difference of opinion as to the proper route of the road south and east from Pahokee, there is no disagreement as to the route between Pahokee and Canal Point.

A SHORT CUT TO TAMPA VIA CONNERS HIGHWAY

Motorists down Tampa bound for the lower Glades are using Connors Highway in increasing numbers. The toll-gate keepers report. A man who reached the 20-mile bend station at 10 o'clock one afternoon the week said he had left Tampa at 9 o'clock that morning.

Mr. Patterson, general manager of Connors Highway, says it is possible to make that distance in that time. This allows three hours for the trip from Tampa to Sebring, three hours or a little more from Sebring to Okeechobee and an hour and fifteen minutes from Okeechobee to 20-mile bend.

SCHOOLS OPEN

Ira York, school trustee, went to West Palm Beach Wednesday to ask the county board to assign two more teachers to the East Beach schools. The attendance now being large and to be increased.

sawgrass; the sawgrass gave way when the land is drained and weeds come up. Presence and action of the weeds changes the composition of the soil. Maps of the Everglades drainage district show the elevation of the land in that locality to be around 7 feet and the depth of the muck about 6 feet. Probably the muck has not settled as much there as it has at places where the muck was 8 to 10 feet deep. Years ago I started wondering if there was any marked difference between the soil of the lower Glades in Dade county and the soil of the middle Glades in Palm Beach county, for there might reason for locating a sugar plantation and mill down near 20-mile bend or on the "cross canal" or at Gladesport or Miami canal.

Rubber trees (as they are called) grow on the banks of the Miami canal and are starting back from the canal also. Rubber trees have been planted several miles back in the plantation as ornamentals, and they look so thrifty I said to Mr. Graham: "If this doesn't turn out all right as a sugar plantation you might convert it into a rubber plantation?" (Note the interlocking point.)

"There isn't a week that somebody doesn't come out here and suggest that we grow something other than sugar cane," was Mr. Graham's reply and he added: "This is a sugar cane country; the soil is best adapted to sugar cane and that's what we are going to grow."

START PIER FOR R. R. BRIDGE HERE

Union Bridge & Construction Company Sends Equipment To Canal Point

EXCAVATING MACHINES STILL MAKING GRADE

Officials Come Next Week To Fix Location of Facilities For Growers' Shipments

Crews and equipment sent to Canal Point Monday are making the foundation for the bridge on which the Florida East Coast railroad will cross West Palm Beach canal to get to Pahokee by the first of December and be available for the quick movement of the winter vegetable crop. The bridge foundations are being put in by the Union Bridge & Construction Company of Kansas City, Mo., which has the contract for the bridge over St. Lucie canal and other bridges for the railroad company.

Excavation is being made into which shelling will be hewn; the coffer dam so made will then be pumped dry and the concrete poured for the piers. The first pier started is on the south side of the canal. The contract is for the completion of the bridge by the first of December. Engineers for the railroad company have said they will have the track ready by the time the bridge is in.

The Bucyrus steam shovel and the excavating machine making the railroad grade north of the canal, have both passed the Connors highway toll-house on the lake front and are now working on the grade. Negro laborers are still working on the grade, making the railroad grade north of the canal. Three days of strong wind did some work on the grade. Negro laborers are still working on the grade, making the railroad grade north of the canal.

No decision has been made as to the location of the passenger station. Loading sheds and sidetracks of the Florida East Coast railroad at Canal Point or Pahokee. This is said by officials of the railroad company in two letters received in Canal Point last week. F. W. Kirklund of St. Augustine, freight traffic manager of the road, and T. L. Beckwith of Miami, fruit and vegetable traffic manager, are in West Palm Beach about September 8 or 9 and from there start a trip through the lower Glades. The trip is to make arrangements for handling products from this territory during the winter. As soon as decisions can be made after their trip there will be an announcement to the growers as to the location of the facilities.

"I note that The News says that north of West Palm Beach canal there is no controversy over the railroad right of way," L. N. Simon of West Palm Beach writes to The Everglades News. Continuing Mr. Simon says in his letter, "The author of this bit of news is not given. However, this should be corrected. So far as concerns the right of way through the lands that F. J. Watkins and the writer are interested in, every foot of the right of way will be contested, if not in the last resort, as to the damages to our adjoining property."

BUSCH SELLS HIS MOORE HAVEN HOLDINGS

The last of the South Florida Farms Company holdings at and around Moore Haven have been disposed of, according to a dispatch from Moore Haven. C. M. Busch of Miami was the trustee for the farms company and H. G. Gates his sales manager. N. W. St. Petersburg is reported to be the buyer of Busch's 20,000 acres of land and 2000 lots in the townsite.

SABLE'S BIG SALE

The Sable Department Store at West Palm Beach is celebrating the announcement of which is made in a half page advertisement in this issue, on page 3. The store wants to develop a line of native-made Everglades goods, has made a 10 per cent reduction to compensate buyers for traveling to town.

SITE IN SAWGRASS IS PICKED FOR NURSERY

Sawgrass land in the lower Glades is the type of soil selected by Benson & Clark; nurserymen and landscape artists, for a nursery from which they will supply their patrons in Palm Beach with ornamentals for planting on large estates.

The land bought by Benson & Clark is the east half of section 32, 33 and 34, range 40, located north of and fronting half a mile on West Palm Beach canal, two miles east of the bend and a mile west of the Southern States Land & Timber Company's muck demonstration tract. A part of the nursery site has been treated and the improvements will be continued as time is found for it.

Harry Benson, a member of the firm, is a dairyman at Boynton who has farmed muck land there for several years. He is credited with being a particularly good farmer. Mr. Clark was a partner with Louis DeGottman, a noted horticulturalist of Lake Worth, until the dissolution of the firm a few months ago.

CRAWFORD TO GRUB ROUTE OF DITCHES

Pahokee District Supervisors Accept Bid of $11,000 For Clearing 18 Miles

Supervisors of the Pahokee drainage district at a meeting in West Palm Beach Thursday last week accepted the bid of A. S. Crawford of Pahokee to clear and grub openings for 18 miles of lateral ditches. Crawford's bid was $11,000. A bid was received for small cash payments for eight miles of ditches but it was rejected.

Prior to accepting the bid for clearing, route of the ditches the supervisors had the crew of the muck-dredging machine at the Atlantic Construction Company of Miami for installation of a pumping plant on the muck-dredging machine. The pump is to have a capacity of two and a half million gallons of water an hour. The plant is to be in operation within seven months.

Nineteen thousand five hundred acres of land in the lower Glades included in the sub-drainage district for which the contracts were let. The district boundaries extended west to West Palm Beach canal on the north and to Lake Ridge on the west. Two dredges are now cutting the first of the main canals.

FIND DECOMPOSED BODY; MYSTERY AS TO HOW DIED

The body of a man badly decomposed was found Monday afternoon lying on hacinch west of the state dike between Bare Beach and Clewiston, according to a report brought to Canal Point Tuesday evening by passengers aboard the crew of the muck-dredging machine. The body was made up by a negro who was fishing and who took news of his find to Clewiston, to which place the body was removed.

Flesh had fallen away from the man's head and the features were not sufficiently distinguishable to make absolutely certain whether he was a white man or a negro. The body was clothed in two-piece underwear, socks and a new pair of overalls. At the back of the overalls was a hole that might have been made by a bullet. The News has no information as to whether the pockets of the overalls contained anything to identify the man. The body seemed to be that of a man five feet four inches tall and from the teeth it was estimated that the man was about 24 years old. Some of the observers argued that it was the body of a white man because the feet were arched. There was a pile of burned salmetto roots near the place the body was found.

If the man was murdered, it is asked, was the crime committed in Palm Beach county? The jurisdiction of Palm Beach county is understood to take in all of the Everglades except W. C. Strickland of big mound, there has been no report of any one missing from the Clewiston or Bare Beach section and the body is not similar to his. It is suggested that the body may have been taken to the place it was found.

Brothers and friends of W. C. Strickland, big mound homesteader, are still following clues as to the manner of his death. W. C. Strickland was a neighbor of Strickland's, has been put in charge of his effects until other disposition is made of the property.

Homer Vivian Buys All of B. A. Howard's Interest in Land, Lots

R.R. TRACK TO DOCK

Provide Facilities For Quick Movement of Vegetable Crops

Homer Vivian of Pahokee this week took over by purchase all of the property of the Pahokee Realty Company and the Howard Company in a Pahokee, four miles south of Canal Point, including the interest in the property held by the Palm Beach Bank & Trust Company. The transaction stopped a foreclosure proceedings that was pending and by it Mr. Vivian protects his own interest in the property. The Pahokee Realty Company had consisted originally of 400 acres; of this there remains 160 acres not sold or covered by contracts and 40 lots and this is the company property at Mr. Vivian takes. The Howard Company holdings consist of the packing house, the dock on the lake front and this is included in Mr. Vivian's purchase.

The 160 acres of truck farming land and the lots are on the market for sale. Mr. Vivian said Tuesday that the dock and packing house would be operated during the coming season.

"This is the best trucking land in the state; it is in the Pahokee drainage district and it is in the frost-proof belt," the owner of the property said when asked about the plans for its use. "I will sell it out as soon as I can; the terms will be unusually good for small cash payments and a balance over a period of six years. If a man will take 20 acres or more and make a substantial cash payment, I'll give him an additional acre and selling the property myself but I have listed it with the East Beach Land Company of Canal Point, Fla. Good terms will be given for the town lots and the land. A buyer of a farm tract should be able to pay for it in two or three years' but I am spreading the payments over six years."

The packing house and dock will be operated but the details have not all been worked out and the packing house may be moved to another location, Mr. Vivian said. A deal is on which is expected to result in a switch being put on by the railroad company to run to the dock and alongside the packing house. The plans contemplate dredging a ship and putting the dock in first class condition.

PAPER IS ADVISED TO URGE A WATER SYSTEM

"You might urge some system of water works for the Point north of a sewage system which from a standpoint is very much needed to safeguard the health of the town," L. N. Simon of West Palm Beach was written under date of August 24 in reply to a letter in which he was asked, "What can The Everglades News do that some kind of action can be taken?" "Water works and sewerage system should go in with street paving and sidewalks," Mr. Simon adds, continuing:

"Why not agitate for the building of an ice plant and a cannery factory? Both, rightly handled, would pay dividends and fill a long-needed want. Insist that the town be cleaned up, back yards as well as front yards. This will include the entire townsite. Everyone should procure a garbage can and then use it. All rubbish and refuse should be put in a receptacle of some kind and carted away to a selected dumping ground and burned. All that is needed is agitation. Then call a mass meeting of the citizens and organize and put into execution plans to provide the various needs of the town, now fast multiplying."

SIXTY CITRUS GROVES SET AT LOXAHATCHEE

Sixty small citrus groves are being established in the Palm Beach Loxahatchee Farms Company's development in the flatwoods at the edge of the Glades, 8 miles east of West Palm Beach and about seven miles east of 20-mile bend. Fifteen hundred acres of land has been cleared and the land has been cleared and all will be plowed within two weeks, and Superintendent A. R. Nielsen has gone to Lake Gardens to buy the citrus trees. Road work in the development is still under way. It is on this development that a sawmill is being operated.

LETTERS FROM READERS

Bare Beach, Fla., Aug. 17, 1924.
I hope you are meeting with success in your venture. Your paper merits a large circulation. Devoted as it is to news and development of the Everglades, it is the best paper I have found covering the field. I am not writing for publication, but merely to express my appreciation of your efforts.
J. W. PUTNAM, Postmaster.

I noted in your columns that the trustees of the internal improvement fund have turned over to the Florida East Coast railway the lake front on East Beach. By what right or authority have they done this? If the abut-ing owners have no claim on this land below the meander line most assuredly no railway has any claim upon it. As owner of land upon the ridge I am vitaly interested in this matter, and believe that a federal investigation of a few such matters might bring results.
I would like to see in print the names of the bunch of trustees who are giving to a railway the lands which by all rights the adjoining property owners should have first opportunity to purchase. I am willing to pay my part of the cost of an investigation. Sincerely yours,
EARL A. WOLFE,
69 N. W. 8th St., Miami, Fla.

Editor, The Everglades News:
I have the marked copy of your paper of July 18th, and note with interest what you say about the public schools in Palm Beach county.
Everyone seems to realize the problem of financing our schools as being difficult on account of the rapidly in## creasing population in all parts of the county.

The people arrive here and wish to have their children enter school immediately, which is perfectly in order, and yet at least a year elapses before they themselves pay even one dollar in poll tax to help run the educational system which their children have enjoyed during that period.
I have been nominated for the office of school board member for this district and if I am elected will assume my part of the problem in connection with schools and shall look forward to the support of every person in this district. Very sincerely yours,
A. S. ANDERSEN,
West Palm Beach, Aug. 8, 1924.

SANITARY PRIVES

Unsanitary privies are a nesting place for flies and mosquitoes and they can be the source of typhoid fever. The Riddle Company at West Palm Beach has studied the problem of the disposal of human waste and has made plans for disposal that are adapted to the Everglades. Copies of the plans have been obtained by The Everglades News and can be inspected at this office.

MONEY IN ROAD FUNDS

The statement of Palm Beach county funds at the end of June shows the following balances in the funds named:
General road and bridge fund, $44,- 089.31 in the Palm Beach Bank & Trust Company and $43,081.24 in the First National Bank of Palm Beach; special road fund, $10,050; Okeechobee road fund, $12,282.80.

NATURAL HISTORY

C. P. Sheffield and Jack Barrett saw a moccasin snake struggling with a catfish at Chancery bay one day last week. The snake had the fish in its mouth and was trying to get it in position to swallow. J. H. Holcomb's surveying crew ran into two young bear in the sawgrass northeast of town.

NEW ENGINEER IN GLADES

Harry S. Gove, a young man, a resident of the county, has been appointed county engineer of Glades county. The appointment was made at the regular meeting of the county commissioners for August. He will supervise the construction of the roads for which $277,- 000 was voted last spring.

OLD SETTLER RETURNS: FINDS EAST BEACH BEST

C. C. Morris, one of the early settlers on East Beach but who has been away for two years, has taken up land in section 20 back of Pahokee and will resume residence here and farm the land this winter. Since he left here he has made his home in West Palm Beach and has been engaged in selling a roofing preparation throughout South Florida. After an over-Sunday stay at the Glades hotel he left Monday for Sanford and other points in the interior of the state. He will return next month to start his farm operations.

Mr. Morris "made a killing" with eggplants and peppers on East Beach a few years ago, his crop being one that helped to attract attention to this region. His success with bananas also was great. Then the high water caused him to get out. With the establishment of a better water table he, like many others, is returning.

The east side of Lake Okechobee is the best trucking ground I've seen and I've seen every trucking district in the state," Mr. Morris said. "All vegetables mature at least two weeks earlier here than anywhere else, and vegetables that grow naturally are better quality and better flavor than stuff that is grown with fertilizer."

In trucks they brought farming implements from Marianna. Captain Gray has gone to Okechobee to get lumber for a house they will build on the farm for their occupancy.

In sending a subscription to The Everglades News, Dr. Clifford R. Rubin of 3147 Logan boulevard, Chicago, writes: "I have sold my place on the lake but I still have 40 acres of Everglades land, so I am still interested in the Glades. All the surrounding counties have been invited and a large crowd is expected.

Their trip is being made in company with Mr. and Mrs. Leedy of Winter Haven.

Williams closed deal for Mr. Taylor which sold his attractive home on Riverside Drive to Mr. Royer of LaBelle, who will soon make Moore Haven his home. Mr. Royer has accepted a position as superintendent of the Moore Haven schools for the coming scholastic year.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE CAR SERVICE

Louis Horton Carter, son of J. E. Carter of Canal Point, has just completed eight weeks of recruit training at U. S. Naval Training Station at Hampton Roads, Va. J. M. Haines, the lieutenant in charge of the station, reports that young Mr. Carter stood highest in his platoon for all-round proficiency in ratings. In a letter to Mr. Carter, Lieutenant Haines writes: "I take great pleasure in informing you that your son is a valuable addition to the naval service and a great credit to his parents."

Arthur Brantley, a former resident of East Beach, stopped at Canal Point yesterday on his way back to Everglades, Collier county, where he is working in the machine shop that maintains the equipment that is used on Tamiami Trail.

With a 912-foot well flowing big, there was still no water for the Slater sawmill in Lee county because the water was unfit for use in the boilers. A flow of good water is expected at 101 feet. South Bay, Aug. 25.—Farmers are again showing signs of life, seed beds are receiving necessary attention and tractors are again beginning to hum in preparation for coming crops.

A revival is being held at the M. E. church, one attraction being a young lady preacher and a gentleman who is an excellent singer.

Farm Talk

Howard Sharp

Writing in this department for the paper of the issue of August 15 I noted the destruction of cypress, palmetto, rubber and custard apple trees and other forms of native vegetation and commented that if the native trees had to go, it would be fine if they were promptly replaced with citrus, mango and avocado trees and banana plants. I did not make my meaning wholly clear, room being left for the idea that I advocated the native planting on the highway, which was not my thought. My observation had been of tracts of privately owned land, stretching off from the road and it was to this farm land that I referred.

A letter from Dean Wilmon Newell of the Agricultural Experiment Station at Gainesville relates to this subject and calls my attention to the indefinite wording of my article and gives me chance to correct it. Actually my article was not on the beautification of highways; it was on the preservation of the native trees in public parks. If by no other means, I am in full accord with the views of Mr. Newell as he states them in his letter:

"Gainesville, Fla., August 18, 1924.
"Dear Mr. Sharp: I have been very much interested in reading in the 'Farm Talk' column of your paper your comments regarding the beautification of Conners Highway.

"With the conclusions in your first paragraph, namely, that the highway be lined with citrus, avocado, mango and banana plants, I cannot agree. Such plantings would be very undesirable from the standpoint of the farmers and fruit growers in that section. You know that what is everybody's business is usually nobody's business, and if fruit trees were planted along the highway no one would take the pains to keep them sprayed and otherwise treated to keep down the insects and diseases and they would soon become literal incubators for insects and diseases which would constantly be spreading from them to plantings of private parties near by, and on the whole be a menace to the entire community.

"With the suggestions contained in your second paragraph we are entirely in accord. The best things to use for highway beautification are those trees and shrubs which nature has already provided with such magnificent abundance along the shores of Lake Okeechobee. There can be nothing more appropriate, more suitable or more certain to live and flourish than the cypress, live oak and cabbage palmetto, which are already growing under the conditions along this highway.

"One should also use for planting along this highway those trees and shrubs which are not cultivated crops by the people in the community and in a climate like that of South Florida these should always be selected with reference to their ability to resist insects and diseases without the necessity of being sprayed and fumigated. It is most unfortunate that much of the natural beauty along the eastern shore of Lake Okeechobee is already being destroyed for what we term commercial purposes, for the value of the small amount of forest along the eastern shore of the lake cannot be calculated in terms of dollars, for without it that section will be barren and unattractive."

"Very truly yours,
"WILMON NEWELL, Director."

FLORIDA HONEY HIGH IN QUALITY AND QUANTITY

Florida's honey production for the past season was around 80 pounds per colony, or, on the average, more than twice as much as that produced, per colony on the average throughout the United States. This striking statement was recently made by the State Plant Board of Florida.

Long continued drought in California considerably curtailed the production of honey from such plants as white sage, mustard and alfalfa. A large part of the American honey comes from this state and these plants. Also the late frosts in the Pacific northwest killed considerable fruit bloom thereby cutting down production in Oregon and Washington.

The Plant Board continues: "The quality of honey produced in Florida this year has been exceptionally good and the prices received by beekeepers here were somewhat in excess of prices received elsewhere. This goes to show that beekeeping in this state by experienced men who practice modern methods is well worth while. The Experiment Station and the State Plant Board are constantly in receipt of inquiries from prospective beekeepers throughout the state for information on this subject, which shows that a great deal of interest is manifested in this industry."

LEE COUNTY VEGETABLES

That the total vegetable shipments for Lee county for the 1923-24 season was 700 cars, valued at $570,000, is information furnished to A. Cavalli, secretary of the Fort Myers Chamber of Commerce by the Bigger-Padgett Company, commission merchants and packers.

The winter vegetable production, according to the same source was $25, valued at $427,500. An estimate of 450,000 boxes of citrus fruit shipped during the first half of 1924 is made. The vegetable shipments were listed as making 121,025 crates. Of these peppers were the largest number, with 189,800 crates, or 475 cars. Squash was the smallest item listed, with ten cars

CHOSEN WRITTEN UP

The Miami Herald of Sunday has a two-column article on Chosen by C. Clinton Page in the paper's "Empire of the Everglades" department. Chosen is a community of 100 people on the east and north side of Hillsboro canal about one mile from Lake Okeechobee. The article says Rev. J. R. Leatherman will farm 120 acres this winter, having cleared some new land.

NEW RESIDENT

Herb McKellips, formerly of Kansas, now a resident of West Palm Beach, will take up residence at Canal Point early next month. He will farm ten acres of the F. J. Watkins land, a short distance north of town, where a dwelling house has just been completed for his occupancy. Mr. McKellips is a son-in-law of Mr. Watkins.

TYNER HAS PLAN TO SELL

ALL TRUCK HE CAN RISE

J. N. Tyner and family have returned from a visit to western Oklahoma. They reached Canal Point, Thursday evening of last week, having driven over 517 miles in the preceding 24 hours, and went at once to their home seven miles north of here. Mr. Tyner will start at once to put in his crops. The Florida East Coast railroad, which crosses his property, will put in a loading station for him and as he has arranged to sell everything he can raise his acreage will be considerable. Oklahoma and Arkansas have good crops but Alabama is not faring so well, he says.

The return trip was made without any occurrence out of the ordinary and his automobile tires still carried Oklahoma air when he got to Canal Point.

WIDEN MILITARY TRAIL; OIL 25 MILES OF ROADS

West Palm Beach, Aug. 23.—The project of the county commissioners to widen Military Trail from the West Palm Beach canal to the end of Okeechobee road and so provide a road capable of accommodating incoming traffic over the cross-state highway, met with no objection at yesterday's board meeting, the time set for hearing complaints on the move, and so a resolution requiring the work was enacted.

Decision to advertise for bids for oiling about 25 miles of roads in the northern part of the county and to prepare plans at once for completion of the Zeigler road and the gap in the Wilson road constituted the rest of the board's action yesterday. The bids for the oiling will be opened on September 9.

Roads on which contractors will bid include all that part of the Stuart-Annie road which has not been oiled, road No. 3, which joins the Stuart-Annie highway west of the St. Lucie river and road No. 2 in the Salerno district

About three miles of the Ocean boulevard near Jupiter and on Jupiter island, the Zeigler shell road, part of the Dixie highway near the Eganman Palm City road, and a half mile gap in the river, the county farm road, and about three miles of the cross-state highway are also on the oiling schedule with the Delray west road, the Poppleton Creek-Palm City road, and a half mile gap in the Wilson road near Jupiter.
